Akim of Mangystau region has attended the official ceremony of opening.

According to the regional Education Department, there are 4,968 children with special needs live, of whom more than 2,000 are children with disabilities in Mangystau region. There are not enough children's special organizations in the region, where a special child and his family can receive professional support and assistance free of charge. More than half of the children with special educational needs in the region, and more than 2500 children, are trained without correctional support and consultations, remaining alone with their problem, not knowing what to do and how to raise their child.

In this regard, in the city of Aktau, DARA Foundation, with the participation of a number of private sponsors, opens the Cabinet of Psychological and Pedagogical Correction, whose goal is to provide effective assistance to children with developmental features and their families. The new Correction Cabinet has all the necessary modern equipment: complexes for practicing physiotherapy, Montessori equipment, computer programs for speech and hearing development, educational games and materials. With each special child a team of specialists will be working here, providing correctional support in its development, individual and group sessions will be conducted. Annually such Correction Cabinet will serve more than 150 children with various developmental disabilities, providing them with free qualified and comprehensive specialist assistance.
